To Whom It May Concern,

It is my great pleasure to recommend Sara Ivanjack, who served as a high school liaison to the Peninsula Community Planning Board (PCPB) over the past year. Sara was a dedicated and thoughtful participant in our work, bringing insight, enthusiasm, and a mature perspective to every meeting and initiative she engaged in.

During her time with the board, Sara served on the Traffic Committee, where she collaborated with both adult board members and fellow student liaisons on issues that directly impact the safety and accessibility of our local streets. Her ability to observe and engage with real-world community challenges and offer practical solutions was both impressive and impactful.

Sara contributed meaningfully to discussions surrounding school-area traffic flow and student safety. She demonstrated a genuine interest in civic engagement and worked diligently to understand both the community's needs and the processes that guide city planning. Her input helped shape thoughtful conversations around youth safety and transportation, and she consistently represented the student voice with clarity and purpose.

What sets Sara apart is her strong communication skills, her willingness to listen and learn, and her ability to work collaboratively in a formal setting. She balanced professionalism with curiosity, and she quickly became a trusted and respected voice in committee discussions. Her presence brought valuable youth insight to our work, and we are grateful for the perspective she brought to the table.

I am confident that Sara's leadership potential, civic awareness, and thoughtful engagement will continue to grow in future roles. I highly recommend her for any opportunity that encourages service, leadership, or public engagement.

Sincerely,

Eric Law
Chair
