1

Veterans Park

Veterans Plaza will enhance accessibility to natural spaces while incorporating placemaking elements to foster community building and remembrance of our US military veterans.

2

Saratoga Park

A beautiful yet underutilized oceanfront park, Saratoga Park is in the midst of a revitalization effort that will increase fitness options for adults and children of all abilities and take into account a wide range of different uses.

3

Ebers Street Park

A family-focused neighborhood pocket park adjacent to the Ocean Beach Recreation Center, Ebers Street Park is in need of updates to support the health and safety of the many local children that use the playground and grassy area.

4

Collier Park

This pocket park could be updated to increase user enjoyment with an expanded picnic area, a nature-based exploratory playground, and specialty recreational amenities.

5

Spray Street/Dog Beach Park

Located near the world-famous Dog Beach, Spray Street Park is currently underutilized and community members have requested enhancements designed to make the park a more active space.

6

Robb Field

The largest recreation area in Ocean Beach, Robb Field is a great community asset that can be expanded to provide more amenities and support a diverse range of activities and interests.

7

Dusty Rhodes Park

A multi-use field, dog park, and playground plagued by maintenance and accessibility issues. ADA pathways and playground substrate are requested, along with additions of a dedicated soccer field and modified maintenance schedule.
